LAND OF MYSTERY AND MARVELS

If you're planning on taking the Hot Air Balloon, the Maasai Mara is the place to do it! Yes, it's expensive, but, something you may never do again ... and if you have done it in the USA, what you saw is NOT what you'll see in Kenya. You'll wake up before dawn, have coffee, and go off to the departure site. There you'll watch as the crew inflates the monstrous balloon! You'll realize the size when you see the men inside as it inflates. Once it's inflated, you'll be assisted into the "basket" and take off. It is unlike anything you can imagine ... serene ... quiet ... as you fly, you'll watch the sunrise and then your pilot will take you up and down to see the animals. (No, you won't get airsick!) Unreal! Have those cameras ready!!! You may see the "chase" vehicle following on the ground. They'll be there when you land ... so will your amazing breakfast in the bush! Again, a full meal awaits, complete with made-to-order omelets, freshly baked goods, juice, coffee, tea, and the signature champagne. All served on china - not paper plates! After breakfast you'll return to our Lodge where you can relax, jump in the pool, and/or retell your stories to those who didn't join you. (I've done this twice and it really is worth it!)

Back on the afternoon game drive, we'll probably see several herds of Gnus, also known as Wildebeest (Yes, that's the correct spelling). They may not be pretty, but they make up for that with their numbers!!!!

We should also see tons of zebra and elephant. Actually, here in "The Mara" we may see all of the Big 5! Remember who they are? Lion, Leopard, Rhino, Elephant, and (African) Buffalo. I'm pretty sure we'll see 4 of them, BUT the Leopard may be too illusive for us to find! Our Guides will ALWAYS do their best! We will NOT be disappointed!!!

You'll begin making memories once we're all together on that flight from London to Nairobi! As our flight progresses, the excitement will build! As soon as we land at Jomo Kenyatta International Airport, you'll all wonder, "what's next"? We're in KENYA! We'll collect our luggage and be on our way! Our transportation to The Stanley Hotel awaits! Just to remind you of what to expect once at The Stanley ...We're only here for one night and MAY arrive rather late, but here's what awaits us.

After breakfast, Tuesday, 01 November 2022, we'll meet our Guides, board our vehicles, and be off on our Adventure!!! :>)

From Nairobi, we drive south to Amboseli and our first view of Mount Kilimonjaro! I can be mistaken, but I believe this is the gate we'll enter on our way to Ol Tukai Lodge. Once there, we'll settle into our accommodations, have lunch, and go on our first Game Drive. Along the way our Guides will point out all the animals we CAN'T see! So many are masters of camouflage, we can be right on top of them (figuratively, not literally!), but won't notice them until they're pointed out!
