KENYA Land of Mystery and Marvels

Happy August, All!!! Moving right along, we are now 304 days before departure. Before you know it, deposits will be required and you'll all be sorting, packing, unpacking, sorting, and re-packing! We will get to that list again as we get closer to our date!

Ok, I'm still receiving questions about the food. Understandable! I think I may have told you about my first trip to Kenya ... my friend Carol and I went and we were both a bit worried about the food! Soooooo, we packed cans of tuna, crackers, and those cracker packs with cheese and/or peanut butter. We ended up giving them to 2 girls we met who were going on to Mozambique on a very strict budget! The food is FABULOUS!!! ... every meal is buffet and the assortment will please anyone and everyone!

Breakfast may include pancakes, crepes, toast, eggs, sausage, bacon, fruit; lunch may be sandwich, fried chicken, veg, dessert; dinner may have soup, pasta, steak, chicken, fish, some local dishes, dessert and always tea and coffee. Yes, there is ALWAYS a bar!

As I've mentioned time and again, because trekkers will be leaving from several US airports, we'll all meet in London for our final flight to Nairobi. In order to be met and taken to our hotel in Nairobi, we MUST arrive together. If anyone plans to deviate, they will have to arrange their own transportation from Jomo Kenyatta International Airport (Nairobi) to The Stanley Hotel. Taking a local taxi is NOT recommended so let's all be on that flight! (flight info will be available at a later date, but then should be booked as soon as possible.)

Ok, Ok, I know there weren't many photos this week, so here goes!

Day or night, we never know what we'll come across! There are photo ops at every turn!!! ... and you never know who you might recognize! :>) ... or not! LOL!!

That's it for this week! Keep smiling and do plan to join us in June 2023!!! It's an amazing trip and you won't be disappointed! Do it now, before all that makes Africa, Africa is gone!!!

Kwa heri! Jeanie Matthies-Kurzrok
