KENYA Land of Mystery and Marvels

As the summer rolls to an end, we look forward to the scent of burning leaves, chrysanthemums, and everything you can imagine perfumed with pumpkin and spice! :>) Now it's time to get serious about joining our trek to Kenya!

Those of you who joined us late have asked about cost and may not have gone through ALL the newsletters so here it is again:

7-11 Trekkers sharing twin accommodations, Per Person = $3,395.00 USD

12-17 Trekkers sharing twin accommodations PerPerson = $3,295.00 USD

18-23 Trekkers sharing twin accommodations PerPerson = $3,195.00 USD

We will have two (2) singles, and only two (2), available at an additional total cost of $510.00 USD each! This does not include airfare, more about that later. As you can see, the more the merrier!!! We can go over that 23 trekkers mark, but you have to understand the properties we're staying at are NOT huge hotels! They have limited rooms and that's one of the reasons we MUST know who's going ASAP so we can reserve those rooms! Shoot me an email jeanie6433@aol.com and let me know you're with us!

Hummmmm...what else can I tell you today? Ah, yes, a reminder to those of you who are new ... check your Passport NOW! It MUST be valid for at least 6 months AFTER leaving Kenya! You will also need a Kenyan Visa, but we'll get to that much later since those visas are only good for 90 days from issue.

Moving right along, we will see animals you may not have even heard of! With luck, we may see an Okapi >> This animal is EXTREMELY rare ... even though it has the stripes of the zebra, it's actually closely related to the giraffe. Keep your eyes open! You never know!!!

We'll also see many cases of different species of animals congregating together in harmony! Getting along so much better than people!!! :>)

Go to the website, pick out your favorite photo(s), and let me know which one(s) it is!

Once out of Nairobi, our first night will be spent in the shadow of Mt. Kilimanjaro ... the subject of movies, books, myths, and home to their famous herds of elephants!!

While out on our game drives, we may run into the hippos! They look very peaceful, but are the most dangerous animals in Africa and kill more people each year than any other!!! Do NOT wander off by yourself and swim only in the pools of the properties we stay at! :>)

I close this week with yet another beautiful sunset!

Have a great week!!!

...and shoot me any email with any questions!
