

Just 457 days before we leave Nairobi on Safari!

Monday, 02 August 2021

KENYA

Land of Mystery & Marvels!

Jambo, All!
...and another happy
Monday to you!

I hope you're all contemplating joining this group for next year's adventure! It's time to get serious ... I'll need to know who's in,
or at least who's serious about going, by 01
September 2021 in order to firm up the price and block our spaces in Kenya. We now have an idea of the airfare (around $800 and change round trip depending of where you're leaving from), but I won't be able to find out definite costs until later this year. Soooooo, put on your thinking caps and let me know ASAP. Once I have that information, things will move very quickly! You'd be amazed at how fast a year can go!!!

It looks like we'll have a few returning travelers with us this time out and I'm hoping (hint, hint) some of them will share their experiences from that last visit with us for this newsletter! I know I'm singing the praises of Kenya, as will you, but I think you all might like to hear from someone else who's been there! Come on, guys, send me your highlights from that last visit!!!! Remember how you weren't sure just what to expect ... How about leaving the road to get to our first "hotel"? Oh, and assure the newbies they don't have to pack cans of tuna and crackers!!! How about the food? Come on, give! :>)

"Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did." - Sarah Frances Brown

How about joining us so you can remove "Safari" from your Bucket List?!?!)

We'll most likely leave the US 30 October to arrive in Nairobi 31 October and leave on Safari 01 November. This allows us to take advantage of the low season rates, yet be guaranteed of good weather - no torrential rain! We may also be able to catch part of "The Great Migration".

Will you be one of those who venture out for a ride in a hot air balloon???

It is an amazing thing to just watch as the balloon is inflated! You can't imagine how enormous it really is until you see it on the ground, waiting to be inflated, and notice how tiny the people working IN it are!!! Then there's the champagne breakfast waiting for you as the chase vehicles follow you and set up as you land! Mmmmmmm! Made to order omelets, an assortment of pastries, OJ, coffee, tea, quite a set up indeed! :>) Yes, it is expensive, but how many times can you glide over the Kenyan savanna in total silence and experience the amazement of truly having a birds-eye view as far as the eye can see? Something to think about (and to start saving for), if you're so inclined! Oh, yes, and there is champagne! :>)

Well, that's enough for this week! As usual, I welcome your questions and comments. Feel free to contact me via email or phone ...

Kwa heri!

Jeanie Matthies-Kurzrok 828.505.8870
jeanie6433@aol.com