KENYA

Land of Mystery and Marvels

Only 321 days before we leave!!!

Happy Monday, all!!! Ready for some more photos???

You'll all enjoy meeting the Maasai! They're always smiling and welcoming! The men will most likely be jumping and singing. They don't use instruments, just their voices. The women may have beadwork for sale ... and the children!!! Some shy, some not so shy, but all smiling!

You are going to enjoy every part of this adventure!!! BUT if you LOVE animals, THIS is where you want to be! From large to GIANT to small to impossible to see without our guide, they're all here for your viewing and photographic pleasure and you're not seeing them through bars or stuffed and mounted in a museum!

“If there were one more thing I could do, it would be to go on safari once again.”

— Karen Blixen

One of the stops we're scheduled to make will be at the Karen Blixen House. If you saw “Out of Africa” you'll recognize it. It's been kept in the same state she lived there. As you approach the area, you'll notice how many things have been named “Karen” ... she was beloved by the people and this is their way of honoring her. Yes, there is a gift shop ... :>)

As I've mentioned before, in order to keep this rate, we need 7 more people to join us. If we go over that amount, we MAY be able to bring the cost down a bit. I can't promise you that, but I can promise this trip will not happen without those additional 7. Soooooo, if you know anyone else who would like to join us, give them my email or give me theirs and I'll get the info to them! And those of you who haven't responded yet, get a move on!!!! :>)

Are you ready to enjoy views like this? The vastness of the savannah will surprise you ... you can literally see for miles! Clear skies, no smog!!!

Well, that's about it for this week ... hope you're enjoying the photos and looking forward to taking your own ... whether you're a full-blown photographer, someone who uses a point-and-shoot, or a mobile phone, you can't go wrong! Be sure to have someone take photos of YOU in these amazing locations!

`til next week, kwa heri! Jeanie Matthies-Kurzrok
