KENYA

Land of Mystery and Marvels

Look at that face!!! All ready for Christmas!!! Are you???

This adventure would be a GREAT gift for someone special!!! ... and we do need another 7 folks to join us!!! This will be the once in a lifetime trip for someone! ...AND we'll be leaving in 314 days!!!! :>)

Are your cameras, iPhones, androids, mini-cams ready???

We never know what we'll see!

Over the next few weeks, we'll go over the do's and don'ts of what to pack and what to not bother with. We'll also learn about what you CAN NOT take into Kenya. It's easier than you think! We still need those 7 elusive people to qualify for this group rate, so put your thinking caps on and let's see if there are a few out there who wish to join us!

A few of you asked about how much walking we'll be doing, and if it will be over rough terrain. For the most part, we'll be in vehicles unless there is something special our guide wants to show us. We will NOT be trekking through jungle, mud, or over rocks!!! Relax!!! This is an adventure, not an endurance test! LOL!!! You'll be amazed by what you see and where you'll see it! On my first visit (Carol, you'll remember this) our guide stopped the vehicle. We had no idea why and were a bit cautious as to what was going to happen! We asked why we'd stopped and he said, "look up". We did and there were giraffes eating the leaves over our heads! We never saw them and wouldn't have if Amos hadn't picked them out! A bit further on, we had a flat tire. Before we knew what was happening a group of Sambura children and women surrounded us offering beaded jewelry for sale and lots of smiles! Then the men came along and offered to help ... we never knew what to expect and were always pleasantly surprised.

Recently I received a note from one of you telling me about the price of this trip. The writer said as a couple, they'd go to the Carribean Islands every winter for a week or so ... between air, car rental, hotel, sightseeing, and MEALS they spent more money than this trip is going to cost! Granted, air fare is going to be an extra cost (yes, you can use your "points"), but remember, all your transportation within Kenya, hotels, meals, entrance fees to the reserves, etc., is all included! We'll have experienced guides who want to show you their country and all its beauty ... and, OH, the animals!

That's it for this week! Enjoy The Holiday ... be Merry ... Stay Happy ... and start packing! LOL!!!
