KENYA

Land of Mystery
and Marvels

I was misinformed!!! Kenya does NOT require a Yellow Fever vaccination for entry!!!! Having said that, we will require anti-malaria prophylaxis – check with your doctor. Also pack an insect repellent that contains DEET – just in case! :>)

<<<< One of the many scenes we'll see on our road trips between hotels ...

We will cross the Equator several times ... you can watch as water is poured into a bucket to show how it goes down clockwise in one hemisphere and counter-clockwise in the other. Of course, you will be asked for a "donation"... :>)

You've seen The Shy, now here's The UGLY, although I think in a few cases that's a bit strong, are the Wildebeest or gnu, marabou stork, warthog (also known as the Kenyan Express), and spotted hyena. Ok, ugly works!

Yep! Ugly works! None of these would be called "cute" or "cuddly"!!! Please note, however, remember those white, fuzzy ladies' bedroom slippers in all the old '40s movies? You know the silky ones with little heels and that fluffy white fuzz? That fuzz was the white feathers of

<<<< This is how it used to be, but now it's more like this ...

Ok, Folks, in the next few weeks we will have the cost of our airfare. We should be leaving from JFK International in New York. (It is very easy to get to even for you folks coming from Pennsylvania.) Once we have that number, I will need everyone who is definitely going to let me know so UTg can send you the proper documents, including information about your $500 deposit which will be due in January 2022. At this tie, I urge you to think long and hard about whether or not you are joining us! The larger the group, the lower the air fare, so let's get SERIOUS!

That's it for this week! Say tuned for more info!!! ... and keep your questions coming!!!!

Kwar Heri!!!
