Only 356 days before we leave!!!!

KENYA

LAND OF MYSTERY & MARVELS!

Oh, yes, we'll see plenty of these! Not to mention all the others you've only seen in zoos! We've done all but the "Impossible Five" ... they're called "impossible" since they are difficult to find and see ... MAYBE we'll be lucky and see a few! No promises, just keep your eyes open! For some reason the Aardvark is included in this list (you've already seen that!), as are the Cape Mountain Leopard (a very rare subspecies), Pangolin (looks like an Armadillo), Riverine Rabbit,

and a White Lion

(VERY rare in the wild!).

We're getting down to the wire and should have our airfare in the next couple of weeks! Then we have to get a move on to secure our space! Stay tuned!!! ... and if you're concerned about safety because of Covid, let me put your minds to rest! I have been assured every property we stay at, as well as every vehicle we'll be riding in, are being continually sanitized. AND we're not leaving until NEXT October!

Here are a few more examples of what you will see available for purchase. Please notice the similarity to the bead work done by Native Americans! Thousands of miles apart, yet so similar! These particular pieces (note the necklace) were done by the Maasai. (The necklace is a piece of beadwork done by a women's bead factory in Nairobi.)

Another beautiful sunrise to start our day!

Just a reminder, we will NOT be taking dust baths!!! No, we will have indoor plumbing with running hot and cold water!!!! :->) Yes, that includes a shower!!!

Whatever questions you have, please feel free to send them to me. This is an amazing experience and I want you all to feel comfortable and safe. As we go along, I will send more information about the "Do's and Don't's" ... along with packing tips and a myriad of other "little things" we all need to know. With that I leave you with another amazing sunset!

... and remind you we still have a few rooms left so let your friends know and have them email me for info!

`til next week, Kwa Heri!
